Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 21 August 2001.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.

DETAILED ACTION

Status of the Application

1. Claims 1-17 have been examined in this application. The Information Disclosure Statement (IDS) statement filed on February 6, 2002 has also been acknowledged.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

3. Claims 1-11 and 13-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being unpatentable by over US Patent Number 6,735,569 to Wizig.

(A) As per claim 1, Wizig teaches an online method for presenting one or more health related goods or services offered by one or more offerors to a user for viewing and selecting at a remote terminal (Wizig: Abstract), the method comprising the steps of:

- a) storing in a storage device at a central location health product related information pertaining to one or more health related goods or services (Wizig: Col. 6, Ln. 4-13);
- b) establishing an electrical communication between the central location and the remote terminal (Wizig: Col. 6, Ln. 4-13);
- c) determining at the central location if the user of the remote terminal is a registered user, and if the user is not registered presenting the unregistered user with a user profile inquiry, whereby an unregistered user uploads to the central location user profile data and satisfies other

registration requirements, the user profile being received and stored at the central location

(Wizig: Col. 7, Ln. 58-Col. 8, Ln. 7);

d) presenting to and viewing by the registered user at the remote terminal information, based at least in part on the user profile, pertaining to health related goods or services (Wizig: Col. 4, Ln. 4-13);

e) the user remotely selecting a particular health related good or service (Wizig: Col. 15, Ln. 63-Col. 16, Ln. 8);

f) the central location presenting the user with cost information related to the selected health related good or service (Wizig: Col. 17, Ln. 11-13); and

g) the user repeating the viewing and selecting steps to build a health benefits package based upon options available to the user (Wizig: Col. 12, Ln. 24-28).

(B) As per claim 2, in Wizig at least one of the health related goods and services available to the user represents a health insurance product made available by an employer to its employees, the user being one of the employees (Wizig: Col. 12, Ln. 24-28).

(C) As per claim 3, in Wizig at least one of the health related goods and services available to the user is a generally available good or service made available based on qualifying data (Wizig: Col. 13, Ln. 35-41).

(D) As per claim 4, in Wizig the user profile inquiry comprises one or more of user name, employer information, user health history data, family member information, family health information and email address (Wizig: Col. 8, Ln. 30-39).

Art Unit: 3626

(E) As per claim 5, in Wizig at least one of the health related goods and services available to the user represents at least one of dental insurance, life insurance and disability insurance products (Wizig: Col. 6, Ln. 35-45).

(F) As per claim 6, in Wizig the health benefits package involves at least one of a flexible savings account and a medical savings account (Wizig: Col. 6, Ln. 35-45).

(G) As per claim 7, Wizig teaches an online system operated over a distributed computer network, the network comprising at least one server at a central location accessible to remote users over the network via remote terminals, and a storage device in communication with the server, a method comprising the steps of:

a) receiving and storing at the central location electronic information concerning at least one health related good or service from at least one offeror to be made available to remote users (Wizig: Col. 6, Ln. 4-13);

b) establishing an electrical communication between the central location and a remote terminal over the network (Wizig: Col. 6, Ln. 4-13);

c) determining at the central location if the user of the remote terminal is a registered user, and if the user is not registered presenting the unregistered user with a user profile inquiry, whereby an unregistered user uploads to the central location user profile data and satisfies other registration requirements, the user profile being received and stored at the central location (Wizig: Col. 7, Ln. 58-Col. 8, Ln. 7);

d) presenting, based at least in part on the user profile, information related to one or more of the at least one health related good or service (Wizig: Col. 7, Ln. 4-13);

Art Unit: 3626

e) selecting by the user at the remote terminal at least one presented health related good or service and transmitting a request to the central location to receive additional information related to the selected health related good or service (Wizig: Col. 15, Ln. 63-Col. 16, Ln. 8);

f) the user repeating the viewing and selecting steps to build a health benefits package based upon options made available to the user (Wizig: Col. 16, Ln. 27-46); and

g) storing at the central location information about the user health benefits package (Wizig: Col. 6, Ln. 4-13).

(H) As per claim 8, in Wizig the options made available to the user are comprised of insurance products made available to the user by the user's employer (Wizig: Col. 13, Ln. 35-41).

(I) As per claim 9, in Wizig the options are one or more of the group consisting of health, dental, life and disability insurance products (Wizig: Col. 6, Ln. 35-45).

(J) As per claim 10, in Wizig the user profile inquiry comprises one or more of user name, family member information, employer information, user health history information, family health history information, and email address (Wizig: Col. 8, Ln. 30-39).

(K) As per claim 11 in Wizig the user is presented with information related to deductible and cost for one or more health related good or service (Wizig: Col. 6, Ln. 31-34).

(L) As per claim 13, Wizig teaches an online system for presenting health related goods or services over a distributed network, the health related goods or services being presented over the distributed network to remote users (Wizig: Abstract), the system comprising:

a central location comprising at least one server and having at least one processor and at least one database, the at least one database for storing data related to the health related goods or services and user profile information, the central location server having a communication device for establishing electrical communications with remote users over the distributed network; a remote terminal operated by a remote user and having a display and a data entry device, the remote terminal further having a communication device for establishing communication with the central location over the distributed network, the user having profile data stored at the central location (Wizig: Col. 6, Ln. 4-13 and Col. 7, Ln. 58-Col. 8, Ln. 40); and the central location further comprising a package module adapted to generate a user package comprising cost and deductible data associated with at least one health related good or service based at least in part on the remote user's profile data, the central location presenting the package to the user (Wizig: Col. 3, Ln. 42-63);

wherein the remote terminal displays the package information received from the central location to the user, the user communicating selection input via the data entry device in response to the displayed package information (Wizig: Col. 6, Ln. 15-24).

(M) As per claim 14, in Wizig the package includes at least one of health insurance, dental insurance, life insurance and disability insurance products (Wizig: Col. 6, Ln. 35-45).

(N) As per claim 15, in Wizig the package made available to the user is at least in part subject to the user's employer benefits offerings (Wizig: Col. 12, Ln. 24-28).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claim 12 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Wizig, as applied to Claim 7, above, and in further view of US Patent Number 6,134,548 to Gottsman.

(A) As per claim 12, Wizig not teach the steps of allowing the user to select at least two competing health related goods or services; comparing at the central location the at least two competing health goods or services; and presenting to the user information pertaining to the comparative results; however, this feature is well known in the art as evidenced by Gottsman (Col. 1, Ln. 54-57 and Col. 1, Ln. 67-Col. 2, Ln. 5). At the time of the invention, it would have been obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art included the aforementioned feature from Gottsman in the method of Wizig with the motivation of providing a user with a means of web-based comparison shipping as recited in Gottsman (Col. 1, Ln. 55-57).

6. Claims 16-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Wizig, as applied to Claim 13, and in further view of US Patent Number 6,134,548 to Gottsman.

(A) As per claim 16-17, the system of Wizig does not include a comparison module adapted to compare at least two competing health related goods or services and to generate comparative results, the central location transmitting the comparative results to the remote terminal for viewing by the user. Wizig also does not teach a means which enables a user to select a desired health related good or service upon viewing the comparative results; however, this features are taught in Gottsman (Col. 1, Ln. 54-57 and Col. 1, Ln. 67-Col. 2, Ln. 5). At the time of the invention, it would have been obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art included the aforementioned feature from Gottsman in the system of Wizig with the motivation of providing a user with a means of web-based comparison shipping as recited in Gottsman (Col. 1, Ln. 55-57).

Conclusion

7. Any inquire concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Vivek Koppikar, whose telephone number is (571) 272-5109. The examiner can normally be reached from Monday to Friday between 8 AM and 4:30 PM.

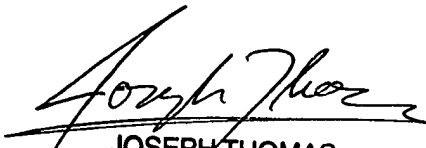

If any attempt to reach the examiner by telephone is unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Joseph Thomas, can be reached at (571) 272-6776. The fax telephone number for this group is (703) 305-7687 (for official communications including After Final communications labeled "Box AF").
